DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-2, 8-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bird (U.S. Patent No.: 5,784,476).

Regarding claims 1 and 8, Bird teaches a method of selectively enabling each of a plurality of respectively different circuits (i.e., audio source)(see figure 1, audio source 1-1, to 1-N) of a multi-function circuit (see figure 1, audio source 1-1 to 1-N) arrangement to perform its respective signaling function, each respectively different circuit requiring use of the same external passive analog circuit component (i.e., loud speaker)(see figure 1, loud speaker 7, col.3, ln.30-33) to implement its respective signaling function, the method comprising the steps of:

providing a single external passive analog circuit component that corresponds to the same external passive analog circuit component (i.e., loud speaker)(see figure 1, loud speaker 7, col.3, ln.30-33), and in association with performance of each respectively different circuit function of the multi-function circuit arrangement (see figure 1, audio source 1-1 to 1-N, col.3, ln.25-33), enabling that one of the plurality of respectively different circuits which performs the each circuit function (see figure 1, audio source 1-1 to 1-N, col.3, ln.25-33), while selectively disabling one or more others of the plurality of respectively different circuits which do not perform the each circuit function (see col.3, ln.23-33), and coupling the single external passive analog circuit component (i.e., loud speaker)(see figure 1, loud speaker 7, col.3, ln.30-33) to the one of the plurality of respectively different circuits (i.e., loud speaker)(see figure 1, loud speaker 7, col.3, ln.30-33), while decoupling the single external passive analog circuit component from the one or more others of the plurality of respectively different circuits (see figure 1, selector circuit 2, col.3, ln.25-45).

Regarding claims 2 and 9, Bird further teaches a method wherein step comprises coupling single external passive analog circuit component to the one of the plurality of respectively different circuits through a selectively controlled switching circuit having a plurality ports respectively coupled to the plurality of respectively different circuits, and a component coupling port coupled to the single external passive analog circuit component (see figure 1, audio source 1-1 to 1-N, selector circuit 2). Figure 1 clearly shows plurality connectors for connecting audio source to selector circuit.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 3-7, and 10-14 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

4. Claims 15-20 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-20 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. In order to expedite the prosecution of this application, the applicants are also requested to consider the following references. Although Chen et al. (U.S. Patent No. 5,881,129), Ludeman (U.S. Patent No. 6,665,398), Saviotti (U.S. Patent No. 5,706,343), and Zobel et al. (U.S. Patent No. 4,431,874) are not applied into this Office Action; they are also called to Applicants attention. They may be used in future Office Action(s). These references are also concerned for supporting the system and method for arrangement for controlling the operating mode of a subscriber line interface circuit and programmable subscriber line interface circuit.

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for response to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the date of this action. In the event a first response is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event will the statutory period for response expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
